

Community Warden

Cliff College, located in the Peak District, has been training people in evangelism and mission since 1903. Today it continues in its mission to equip the church in evangelism and mission through a range of undergraduate and postgraduate programmes, a wide selection of short courses, an annual Festival, partnerships with other institutions globally and churches locally and a busy conference centre and leisure business.

Cliff is now seeking to appoint to the new role of Community Warden. This will be a key role, overseeing the student life of the College, developing community cohesion, supporting the provision of student welfare and shaping the student spiritual formation programme.

We are looking for someone who:

- has relevant training to support the post
- has good knowledge of special educational needs
- is a good listener
- is passionate about developing a creative, bespoke spiritual formation programme for our students
- is willing to play a key role in the life of Cliff College

If this is you then please contact the Michelle Foulkes for more information or download the details from our website: <https://www.cliffcollege.ac.uk/news-events/hiring-community-warden>

Salary: £25,000 with accommodation provided. All occupants of Cliff College premises will be expected to abide by the Conditions of Residential Occupancy

Closing date: 12 noon on Tuesday 19th July

Interviews: Wednesday 27th at Cliff College

Applications are welcomed on a College application form or through a CV with covering letter, outlining suitability for the criteria required.
